

LOVE YOU TO DEATH AND BACK

AGAIN

(Verse 1)

*Three years ago, the winter blew cold,
Kicked out in a storm, my heart felt so old,
Snowflakes fell like the tears from my eyes,
In that frigid night, I said my goodbyes.*

(Verse 2)

*But as springtime thawed, I found my way,
Lest in the memories of a darker day,
July came rolling, I signed on the line,
Divorced and unshackled, finally feelin' fine.*

(Chorus)

*Oh, love you to death and back again,
From the shadows of heartache, I found a friend,
With your laughter like sunlight, on a summer day,
You turned my world around, chased the darkness away,
And on this day, we found the spark,
Together we rose from the cold and the dark.*

(Verse 3)

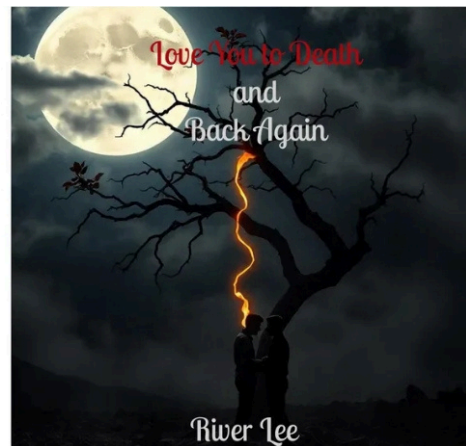

*August came in, like a breeze through the trees,
Every moment with you, put my heart at ease,
The taste of sweet freedom, it danced on my tongue,
In the warmth of your arms, I felt forever young.*

(Verse 4)

*One year later, I surprised my own heart,
Put on that ring, thought I'd never restart,
But with every fight, every storm we weather,
I know deep down, our love lasts forever.*

(Chorus)

*Oh, love you to death and back again,
From the shadows of heartache, I found a friend,
With your laughter like sunlight, on a summer day,
You turned my world around, chased the darkness away,
And on this day, we found the spark,
Together we rose from the cold and the dark.*

(Verse 5)

*Now every December, I feel your embrace,
From the chill of that storm to this warm, loving place,
Oh, how we've traveled, through laughter and tears,
Three years together, just washed away fears.*

(Chorus)

*Oh, love you to death and back again,
From the shadows of heartache, I found a friend,
With your laughter like sunlight, on a summer
day,
You turned my world around, chased the darkness away,
And on this day, we found the spark,
Together we rose from the cold and the dark.*

(Outro)

*So here's to the journey, to love's sweet refrain, Through the highs and the lows, I'll love you the same,
And as we keep dancing through life's little
bends,
I'll love you to death and back again.*

(Outro)

*So here's to the journey, to love's sweet refrain, Through the highs and the lows, I'll love you the
same,
And as we keep dancing through life's little
bends,
I'll love you to death and back again.*
