

FRAMED BY FAMILY

Verse 1

*Sitting in this cold hard chair, my heart's racing filled with despair
Remember summer nights, laughter on the porch
Now shadows loom where love used to torch.*

Pre-Chorus 1

*My ex-husband's smirk,
like a thief in the night
Took my dreams and wrapped them in fright*

Chorus

*I plead guilty, but I'm innocent still Falsely accused of breaking my will
in this lonely cell I'm fighting the pain,
framed by family Drowning in shame, oh, the taste of freedom It slipped right away in this courtroom drama It's my heart they betray*

Verse 2

*My eldest sister with her venomous smile
She'd butter you up, but it's all just a trial
We shared secrets under the old oak tree Now she's scheming, trying to bury me
The scent of a freedom, it slipped right away
In this courtroom drama It's my heart they betray*

Pre-Chorus 2

The scent of her betrayal hangs heavy like smoke Once filled with joy, now it just chokes

Chorus

*I plead guilty, but I'm innocent still Falsely accused of breaking my will I in this lonely cell I'm fighting the pain framed by family drowning in sham,
oh, the taste of freedom It slipped right away

Verse 2 (Repeated)

*My eldest sister with her venomous smile
She'd butter you up, but it's all just a trial
We shared secrets under the old oak tree Now she's
scheming, trying to bury me
The scent of a freedom, it slipped right away

Verse 3

*Every justice's hammer sounds like a drum Counting the days when the silence is numb
I remember the warmth that my mothers embraced Now all I feel is this cold empty space*

Verse 4

*I close my eyes and I'm back on that road wind in my hair, I was never alone
But now the echoes of laughter are ghosts Just memories of love that I miss the most A life built on trust Now crumbling down in this prison of lies I wear a frown.*

Chorus

*I plead guilty But I'm innocent still, falsely accused it's breaking my will
in this lonely cell I'm fighting the pain,
framed by family Drowning in shame,
oh, the taste of freedom It slipped right away

Verse 5

*So here I am just a pawn in their game
I'm trying to break free from this heavy chain
With every teardrop, I raise from the dust
But oh, what they done, it's a betrayal I can't trust
Framed by family
I'm fighting to be, the man I was before all this misery
The man I was before all this misery
Ooh ooh choc chocco*
